Memo from the Editor:

As is expected of an annual editor, I shall now commence a lengthy excerpt to explain the purpose and theme of our yearbook... no, I think none is needed. As you look over this book you will find little cause for elaboration. Little need for further explanation exists; it is the life, the deeds (done and undone), and the goals of a student body called Campbellsville College in the year 1964-65. Why must I take it upon myself to tell you what is contained in this book when you might enjoy the privilege yourself? I shall leave it to you, reader, to find what you will... the memories, the past in a nutshell; and when, at some future date, you have time to skim through the pages once again, I hope that you can find your youth, your vigor, and the thousand and one forgotten deeds that go into the formation of a yearbook such as this.

This year's annual is of a more modern nature than in the past. It is our belief that this is the trend of contemporary books. We hope that you will find it worth the purchase price.

Campbellsville Industries Expands Swiftly

The college industry has found a new and profitable line of work in building church steeples.

The purpose of a church steeple is twofold, according to manager Herb Keeton: it is to point men to God and to serve as a functional locator so that all may see it and be invited to attend the worship of God.

Campbellsville steeples are all aluminum. The strong welded and rivited structure is covered with prefinished aluminum plate in whatever color is chosen.

It is the intention of Mr. Keeton to restrict the construction to small steeples, less than 50 feet in height. The steeple in these pictures, for the South Campbellsville Baptist Church, is 40 feet high and 8 feet wide at the base.

Message from the President

Although apparently inevitable today, the present rush toward discarding long accepted values and foundations could be disastrous for tomorrow. Nor is it feasible to expect tomorrow to be served by an unchallenged acceptance of that which stood so firmly yesterday.

Campbellsville College today must help construct foundations that will be adequate for the opportunities and yet be able to withstand the dangers of tomorrow. With prayer and caution we must approach our work- with prayer that we may be ready always to accept the best and with caution lest we build on untried foundations.

Work Begun On Annual

It was announced this week by Maple Trail Editor, Tom Purcell, that work had begun on the annual of 1965. In the announcement he mentioned that the format for the '65 yearbook would be far less formal than in the past and a more modern approach would be taken. Less attention will be given to space and alignement and more to a better coverage of events including spring events of 1964. The staff, which is almost complete was listed as: Jim Downey, Senior editor; Jim Outhouse, Junior editor; Linda Newton, Sophomore editor; Bud dy Mason, Freshman editor; Ed Jeff, Sports editor; Kay Zaring and Chelsie Lynn, Co-Feature editors, and David Griffin, Business manager. Other staff members may be added if the need arises.

The editor issued a plea for everyone to have their pictures made. Although most class deadlines have been met, Senior men who did not have their pictures made and who attended college here last year may attain a larger copy from Superfone Studios for use in the annual. Senior women however cannot do this due to the drapes worn this year.

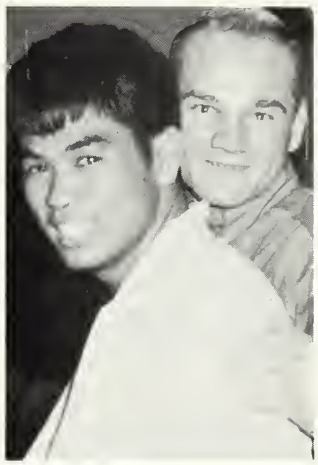
Home Ec.?...Pixies-a-plenty

"Close your mouth, I don't care if you did use Brand X".

"Give me a break, will ya".

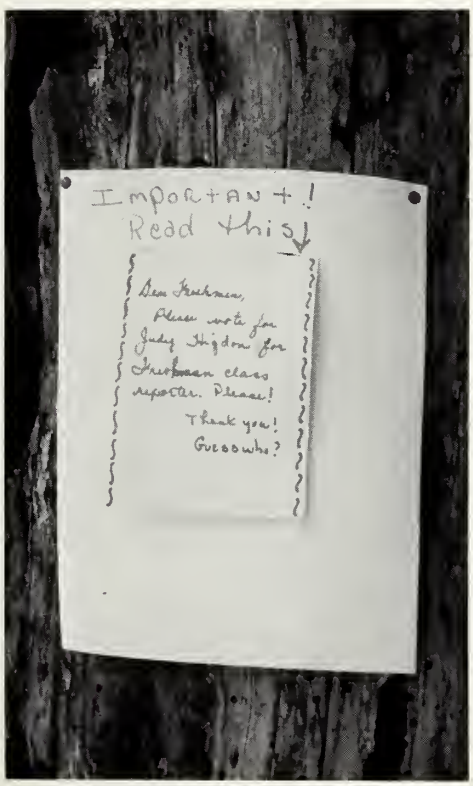
"Any volunteers?"

"I can work this stuff with my eyes closed".



A victory smile.

"I'll never tell."



I've got a v-r-room motor coming next month.

"Someone has been drinking my orange juice and its a-l-l-l-l gone".

"What do I do next?"

"Don't worry, this is guaranteed to remove that embarassing dandruff".

Being Student Council President has its "ups" and "downs" as does any position of importance. Being elected to this honored position has been one of the most valuable and wonderful experiences of my life. I leave to the new president an important job to which I gave my best. Long may the spirit of Campbellsville live.

The Campbellsville Baptist Church congratulates Campbellsville College for a year of unprecedented growth in size, in the quality of academic instruction and in spiritual strength.

Your College Church is pleased to have its lovely sanctuary used for the Chapel Services this year.

J. Chester Badgett, Pastor
J. P. Jardine, Minister of Music

SPIRES CRAFTED

Let A Steeple Guide People To Your Church

Campbellsville Industries, a division of Campbellsville College, started out nine years ago to provide jobs for students needing financial help to go to college. The venture was so successful that it is now a full-fledged industry with a staff of skilled men, draftsmen and engineers under whom our students have the privilege of working.

As with our bulletin boards, we believe in giving quality at a reasonable price because we believe the church with the small budget needs serving as well as the large, and our constant backlog of orders proves us right.

Our welded structural aluminum steeples, covered with prefinished aluminum of any color, means we can give you the detail in design that would suit your church the best.

ALL WELDED STRUCTURAL ALUMINUM TOWERS COVERED WITH PREFINISHED ALUMINUM

THIS MEANS:

Less Cost
Less Weight
No Maintenance
